Audits are a key metric for measuring success

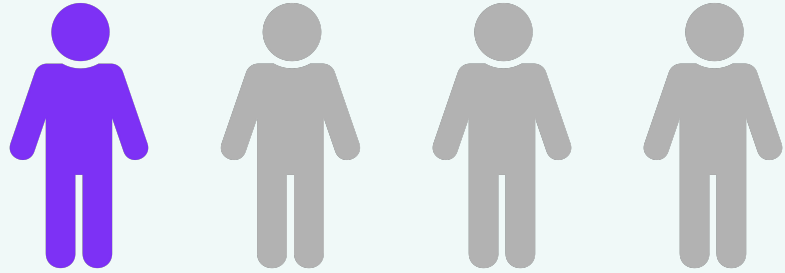

Audit readiness is the top quality/regulatory metric

Q Which quality/regulatory metrics are most important to company leadership?

Audit readiness

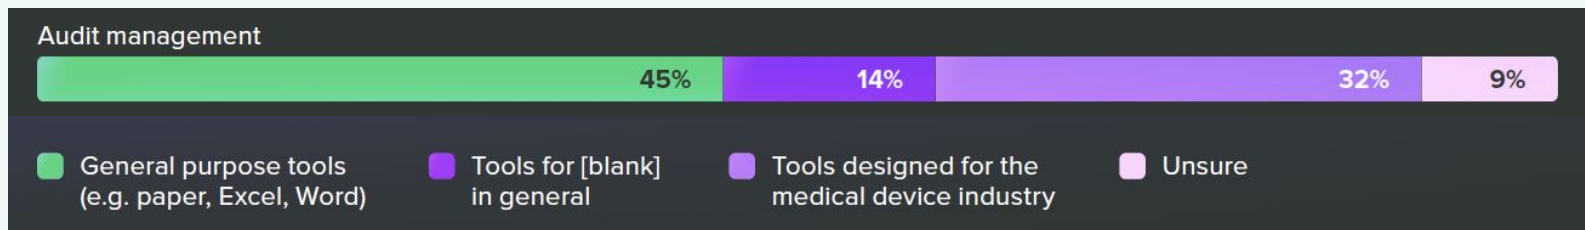

Where things can go wrong

say they are “very confident” they can demonstrate necessary traceability if a government agency or other notified body showed up for an unannounced audit.

Many companies are still stuck using general-purpose tools

Conducts Audits With Ease

- Proactively Manage Your Internal Audit Schedule
- Ensure Full Traceability and Auditability of Your QMS

The screenshot displays a digital audit report interface. At the top, it shows 'Risk Management SOP (SOP-01) Audit' and 'Draft'. Below this, a summary box states: 'This Risk Management SOP needs to be reviewed to assure alignment with ISO 14971.' A table provides key details:

Due Date	Assigned To	Initiated By	Reported To
Aug 21, 2023	Marcus Mueller	Marcus Mueller	Janice Jones

Date of Event	Reported On	Priority	Reported To
Mar 10, 2023	Mar 20, 2023	Urgent	AC-85
